

Dayan for her tireless work on behalf of Congregation Agudath Sholom. Her devotion to the congregational family at Agudath Sholom, the local Jewish community in Stamford and to the well-being of Jews worldwide is nothing short of inspiring. The community of southwestern Connecticut is stronger, richer and more inclusive because of the work that she does.

It is my unique honor to recognize Rachel for her unyielding dedication to her faith and her unparalleled efforts to advance the cause of Jewish organizations around the world. Rachel led the Congregation Agudath Sholom rebuilding committee in restoring the synagogue and in doing so, helped spread the core Jewish value of repairing the world.

Madam Speaker, I ask that you and my colleagues join me in congratulating Rachel on her immense accomplishments.

Ms. TLAIB. Madam Speaker, I rise today in recognition of Orchards Children's Services as they celebrate sixty years of providing supportive services to children and families, including adoption and foster care, across the State of Michigan.

Since that time, the organization has grown in its mission to strengthening families and now serves more than eight thousand children in fifteen counties across Michigan.

Whether it's providing in-home support services to families to help families in difficult situations stay together or uniting children to loving homes, Orchards Children's Services is dedicated to keeping children safe and happy. They work tirelessly to ensure access to counseling and connect families to the basic resources they need to create stable homes.

Please join me in celebrating Orchards Children's Services sixty years of service to the children and families of Michigan.
